SBA's Disaster Declaration Makes Loans Available Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19)

President Trump signed the Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security Act into law on March 27, 2020. The economic stimulus bill provides financial assistance to U.S. citizens and U.S. businesses. Within the bill, emergency capital will be made available to sustain our nation's small businesses and their employees during this unprecedented event.

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering designated states and territories low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19).

The Economic Injury Disaster Loan Advance will quickly provide an advance of up to a $10,000 in capital and is available now through: <https://covid19relief.sba.gov/#/>

Eligible entities may qualify for loans up to $2 million.

The interest rates for this disaster are 3.75 percent for small businesses and 2.75 percent for nonprofit organizations with terms up to 30 years.

Eligibility for these working capital loans are based on the size (must be a small business) and type of business and its financial resources.

How can I use the loan funds?

These working capital loans may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred. The loans are not intended to replace lost sales or profits or for expansion.

What are the collateral requirements?

- Economic Injury Disaster Loans over $25,000 require collateral.
- SBA takes real estate as collateral when it is available.
- SBA will not decline a loan for lack of collateral, but requires borrowers to pledge what is available.
- 20% or greater owners of the business will need to provide their unlimited personal guaranties.

SBA's Working Capital Loans are Different from regular SBA Loans

SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDLs) funds come directly from the U.S. Treasury.

Applicants do not go through a bank to apply. Instead apply directly to SBA's Disaster Assistance Program at: <https://covid19relief.sba.gov/#/>

- ❖ There is no cost to apply.
- ❖ There is no obligation to take the loan if offered.
- ❖ The maximum unsecured loan amount is $25,000.

Applicants can have an existing SBA Disaster Loan and still qualify for an EIDL for this disaster, but the loans cannot be consolidated.

Ineligible Entities

What are some of the businesses that are ineligible for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan?

- Agricultural Enterprises -If the primary activity of the business (including its affiliates) is as defined in Section 18(b)(1) of the Small Business Act, neither the business nor its affiliates are eligible for EIDL assistance.
